

A photograph of a staircase with a wrought-iron railing and a wooden handrail. The walls are a light beige color with a textured, faux plaster finish. There are several windows with dark wood frames, some of which are partially visible. A decorative light fixture is mounted on the wall. The ceiling is dark wood with a decorative crown molding.

Several of the walls in this project were pictured in "M" Magazine's April 2009 Home and Garden issue. The article features a Mediterranean style 9,000 square foot house. Change Your Scenery worked with the designer, Karen Kempf of Karen Kempf Interiors - Waukesha, and the homeowner to come up with a paint finish that further enhanced the Tuscan feel of the home. Over 80 hours were spent applying a multicolored faux finish to many of the roughly plastered walls.
